PRESIDENT'S WEEKLY PERSPECTIVE

Good morning.

Today, we celebrate Memorial Day. Of all the federal holidays, this is the one that unites us in being loved: "There is no greater love than to lay down one's life for one's friends." Thank you to those who have laid down their lives for our freedoms, and to all who serve so that we can continue to live, love and disagree as a family. Please take a moment to reflect on the many Lobos who have been, and continue to be, a part of UNM's important military history.

Until next week,

Chaouki T. Abdallah

Acting President
